STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 10.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania State Board of Education today announced that it had approved the new state curriculum plan for the 1969-70 school year. The plan, which was developed by the state's teachers and administrators, calls for a more flexible and individualized approach to education. It emphasizes the importance of the arts, sciences, and physical education, and encourages students to explore their interests and talents. The board also announced that it had approved a new set of standards for the state's public schools, which will be implemented in the 1970-71 school year. The standards are designed to ensure that all students receive a high-quality education, and to provide a framework for evaluating school performance. The board's decision was based on a thorough review of the current curriculum and standards, and on input from a wide range of stakeholders. The new curriculum plan and standards are expected to have a significant impact on the state's education system, and to help improve the quality of education for all students.
